PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dr. Michael J. Kasler
President, Cypress College

The Commencement ceremony affirms students' search for knowledge and marks an important educational milestone. It is based in tradition and ritual established several centuries ago to provide an occasion for students, faculty, staff, family members and guests to recognize the achievement of an academic goal. At Cypress College, this goal is earning an Associate Degree.

By individual path, each graduate has reached this goal and is now and into the future, one of ours – a Cypress College graduate. My very best wishes to you for a bright and fulfilling future as you continue your education, pursue a career, or take your place in the community. I also encourage you to keep in touch with your instructors and come back to the campus for a visit now and then. Congratulations! We are very proud to claim you as graduates.

CYPRESS COLLEGE OUTSTANDING GRADUATE FOR 2010

Sarah Clingan

Honor Roll student Sarah Clingan is Cypress College's Outstanding Graduate for the Class of 2010. She was selected from a group of 24 finalists. Her plans are to transfer next year to California State University, Long Beach and pursue her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology.

Clingan is a member of the Psychology Club and has a 4.0 GPA.

"She truly has a compelling story of success as she moved through her years here at Cypress College," said Paul Bottiaux, the college's Student Activities Director and chair of the selection committee. "She is a fine example of perseverance and excellence."

Struggling to read and spell because of dyslexia — and feeling shamed by the special classes she attended because of it — Clingan gave up on school in the fifth grade. By 18 she was homeless and addicted to drugs. By 20, she was in prison.

"At that point I had to take a good look at my life and decide how I was going to live and what type of person I wanted to be," she said. "I made a decision to no longer walk down the path of destruction. I realized that it wouldn't be an easy option, but I made it and I stuck to it. I had lived with women who were never going to get out of prison, and I knew that I did not want to let my life end up like that."

Clingan said she credits her parents — and her own perseverance — for the turnaround in her life.

"I am proud to say that I now have seven years clean, and I am a mother and a wife," she said. "I used to fight the system from the outside because I disagreed with it. I still disagree with it, but I have found that education helps me fight the problems from within the system itself."

Clingan says she plans to earn a Ph.D. in psychology. That's an impressive change in confidence from her first trip to Cypress College.

"As I walked onto campus I was full of fear," Clingan said, recalling her first experiences here in Fall, 2007. "I was unsure of how I would do and had very low expectations for myself. Fortunately, looking back, I can say that I have far exceeded my expectations."

In addition to the Honor Roll and Psychology Club, Clingan is a member of the Psi Beta national honors society in psychology for community colleges. She has also participated with the forensics team and presented with the team at a speech competition held at Cal State Long Beach.

Off campus, she is a member of an advisory committee for a group advocating for social justice and to enhance the re-entry process for people coming out of jail or prison.

"Higher education has offered me a way to overcome numerous obstacles in life," she said. "Cypress College has given me confidence in myself I never had before."

CANDIDATES FOR OUTSTANDING GRADUATE 2010

All graduating students who earn a cumulative grade point average of 3.75 and above during their college career, are eligible to be named the Outstanding Graduate. Final selection is determined by a campus committee based on applications submitted by the students.

CYPRESS COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER FOR 2010

Tommy Lasorda

Legendary Los Angeles Dodgers manager Tommy Lasorda will deliver the keynote address for Cypress College's 43rd Commencement.

Mr. Lasorda is known world-wide for his career in baseball as well as his contributions to all mankind. The admiration that he receives from around the world has made him not only an ambassador for baseball, but a good-will ambassador for our country.

During the graduation ceremony, Mr. Lasorda will also be recognized with an honorary degree from Cypress College — the first such tribute in the college's history. Mr. Lasorda has been involved with major league baseball since 1954 — as a pitcher, manager, scout and director. As he continues his 60-plus years with the Dodger organization, he makes more than 100 speeches and appearances each year to various charities, youth organizations, schools, hospitals and private organizations.

Especially close to his big heart are his visits with military personnel overseas, as well as at home. Just last year, he joined Admiral Mike Mullen, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on a visit to Iraq and Afghanistan on a USO tour to motivate and inspire troops.

At home, Mr. Lasorda has talked numerous times at the Air Force Academy, the Naval Academy, West Point, the Naval War College, and at 40 military bases across the country.

This past fall, on the occasion of his 82nd birthday, Lasorda's portrait was unveiled in the National Portrait Gallery in Washington, D.C., this in recognition of his contributions to American culture and history.

The recipient of countless honors, Mr. Lasorda recently had the distinction of receiving the Emperor Award of the Rising Sun, the highest award given in Japan. And, while the Japanese wanted him to come to their country for the presentation, he requested the award be presented here so his family could attend. In February, Mr. Lasorda was honored by the Cypress College Foundation as the Americana Man of the Year.

NATIONAL ANTHEM

Oh, say! can you see, by the dawn's early light

What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming;

Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?

*And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,*

*Gave proof through the night
that our flag was still there:*

Oh, say! does that Star-spangled banner yet wave

O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

O Alma Mater, Hail with pride and loyalty,

*So sing we now with hearts
uplifted to thy glory.*

*O Cypress, Thee we love,
Thy spires shall rise above,
Ennobled through the years*

with splendor, Cypress, hail to thee.

THE MEANING OF ACADEMIC DRESS

Academic dress, which includes a gown, a hood, and a mortarboard cap, originated in the oldest universities and colleges. In fourteenth century England the statutes of most colleges and universities forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown which provided warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. The tailoring of gowns was strictly governed. In the early days of Oxford, any tailor who departed from the authorized design of the gown, “even by a nail’s breadth,” was to be punished by the vice chancellor of the university or college. The four basic kinds of degrees awarded by the colleges and universities are the associate, the bachelor of arts, the master of arts, and the doctorate. The holders of those degrees are distinguished by their gowns and the hoods. The associate degree, awarded by community colleges, signifies completion of two years of specific work.

The Gowns

Most academic gowns are black. The cut of the robe and sleeves, as well as the trimming, indicates various academic degrees. No trimmings are permitted on the gowns for the associate, bachelor of arts, or master of arts degrees. However, the gown worn by those who have earned their doctorate has a front facing of velvet and three bars of the same velvet across the sleeves.

Mortarboard Caps

There is no general rule for the position of the tassel on a mortarboard. However, numerous institutions have required candidates to wear their tassels on the right side during commencement exercises and to shift them to the left side at the moment the degrees are conferred. This custom replaces individual hooding which was practiced many years ago and still remains in effect at some universities.

The Hoods

Hoods fasten around the neck, drape over the shoulder, and fall down the back. Historically, hoods had several uses. They were used as a head covering; a cape; a receptacle for carrying books and other personal items; and as a bag to collect alms, since most medieval scholars were quite poor. Hoods are worn by those who have earned the master’s degree or doctorate. The colors on the hood represent the field of study and indicate from which college or university the individual received the degree.
