Events Celebrating Black History Month Continue in the Next Week

▶ Black History Month also incorporates the Diversity Committee’s 2010-2011 annual theme of “Diversity Within Unheard Voices.”

February is Black History Month with campus events incorporating the Cypress College Diversity Committee’s 2010-2011 annual theme: “Diversity within Unheard Voices.”

Renee Ssenso, chairperson for the By Us, For Us Kwanzaa and Black History Committee, said that the committee, along with the Black Student Union, have planned this month’s events.

As is the case with other Diversity-related events this year, Black History Month incorporates within its events the goal of providing students with stories of well-known people from pop culture, and stories of those with political or economic power. This year they hope to foster knowledge of the great variety of experiences of people who are often marginalized or unheard.

“The Cypress College Campus at large has been very supportive of all our events,” Ssenso said.

The events for Black History Month include:

• Wednesday, February 23, at 12 p.m.: “Celebration of Dance,” at the Campus Theatre on the Main Stage. The styles of dance featured will be: African; Hip Hop; Tap, Jazz, Latin; Swing; and Modern. It is coordinated by the Dance Department Chair Erin Landry.

• Thursday, February 24, from 3-5 p.m. in Humanities-131: a monologue will be presented by Karen Malina White, an actress who has been in the Cosby Show and currently in A Different World. There will be a question and answer session.

Black History Month events held earlier this month were:

• Monday, February 7: National Black AIDS/HIV Awareness Day
• Wednesday and Thursday, February 16-17: Club Rush for the Black Student Union, and Black History Jeopardy.

Distance Education Training Available

The Distance Education teacher training course, titled Cypress College Distance Education Faculty Basics, is open for enrollments. The online, self-paced course is equivalent in time and effort to a 3-unit college level course. Those interested in being able to teach Distance Education classes, online and/or hybrid classes should email Jeanne Miller. She will then provide the technical assessment that is a pre-requisite for taking the class. She can also be reached at ext. 48684.
Each week through the accreditation visit, March 14-17, @Cypress will feature a related Q & A.

Q. What do these committees have in common: President’s Advisory Cabinet, Diversity, Matriculation Advisory, Planning and Budget, all Direction Committees of the Strategic Planning Process?

A. They are all examples of shared-governance committees: including representation from administration, faculty, classified staff, and students.

(Link to the Self Study)
February 24, 2011 @ 3-5pm
Humanities 131
Want to see more?

Cypress College Theatre & Dance Department presents

FULL MONTY

Want to see more?

Book by TERRENCE McNALLY

Music & Lyrics by DAVID YAZBEK

Jim Hormel, director
Hector Salazar, music director
Arthur Ross, choreographer

Friday/Saturday
March 11, 12, 18, 19 at 8 pm
Sundays, March 13, 20 at 4 pm

Cypress College Campus Theatre
9200 Valley View Street
Cypress, CA 90630

Box Office: 714-484-7200

Tickets: $20
Seniors, Students (with valid ID) and Children under 12: $15

*Show contains adult language and themes with partial nudity and may not be suitable for younger audiences.

THE FULL MONTY is presented through special arrangement with MUSICAL THEATRE INTERNATIONAL, New York, N.Y.
Rep. Ed Royce
in conjunction with CSUF’s Women and Philanthropy Network invites you to attend the

3rd Annual Royce Women's Conference
Saturday, April 2, 2011
Cal State University, Fullerton
Titan Student Union
800 North State College Blvd
Fullerton, CA 92834

Keynote Speaker

Kristen Bell

Kristen Bell is probably best known for her roles in the romantic comedy Forgetting Sarah Marshall and the TV series Veronica Mars. Bell is also a strong supporter of Invisible Children, a group dedicated to creating awareness about the plight of child soldiers in Uganda.

The conference will include the following breakout seminars:

• Stress Management: Achieving the Work/Life Balance
• A Woman’s Guide to Money Matters
• The Safety Chick: 5 Safety Tips EVERY Woman Should Know
• Eating Right to Look and Feel Your Best
• Tips for Job Seekers

To RSVP go online to www.royce.house.gov and click on 'Women's Conference' and then fill out the RSVP form, selecting TWO breakout seminars to attend. Registration begins at 8:30am.
• Stress Management: Achieving the Work/Life Balance
  This seminar explores the causes of stress and its impact on both our personal and work lives. Issues discussed include ways to identify stressors, manage stress effectively and adapt a pattern of behaviors and attitudes that help reduce the development of stress.

• A Woman’s Guide to Money Matters
  This seminar is designed to teach women the skills necessary to take control of their financial life by examining their values and setting specific, realistic and measurable goals.

• The Safety Chick: 5 Safety Tips EVERY Woman Should Know
  Personal Safety/Crime Prevention Expert, Kathleen Baty will cover the 5 areas of personal safety women are most vulnerable, and give participants simple tips and tools that can help keep them and their families safe from crime.

• Eating Right to Look and Feel Your Best: A Woman's Guide to Nutrition
  Eating well is one of the best ways you can take care of yourself and those who depend on you. Did you know your body requires different nutrients based on different stages in life? Learn more about maintaining a healthy diet.

• Tips for Job Seekers
  Can’t figure out what’s holding you back in your job search? Learn from an experienced recruiter and get the tips you’ll need to land your next job: master a first impression, stand out from the crowd and hook your interviewer.